PEACOCK DECLINES TO TALK.

ASKED POLICE PROTECTION FOR HIS CHILDREN.

Alexander R. Peacock, of Pittsburg, former vice-president of the Carnegie Steel Company, refused to make a statement yesterday. The reporters who came to the Holland House to ask him if he would confirm the story that he had brought his wife and three children to New-York because of threats made in Pittsburg to kidnap the children if he did not pay down $25,000, gave him plenty of chances to talk, but he refused them all. Mr. Peacock was seen in the corridor, coming out from breakfast, with H. C. Frick, of Pittsburg. A reporter asked him about the reports, but he declined to talk. Mr. Peacock went downtown soon after, and his wife and children remained in their apartments.

Later a clerk said to a reporter: "Yes, Mr. Later a clerk said to a reporter: "Yes. Mr. Peacock and his farrily are here, but they will see no visitors, much less newspaper men. Mr. Peacock has nothing to say to you."

Mr. Peacock made no effort to secure the aid of the New-York police force to protect his children. Captain Titus, chief of detectives, said yesterday: "All I know about the case is what I have read in the papers. Mr. Peacock has not asked for any detectives from this office. If he has any guard he brought the men from Pittsburg, and I haven't heard that he did that." No detectives were seen around the hotel. Only etectives were seen around the hotel. Only abbies stood at the door and in the office the

MAY USE MARCONI SYSTEM ON LAKES.

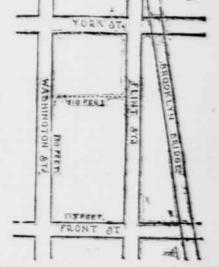

Chicago, March II—A wireless telegraph system, giving connection between vessels in midlake and the mainland, may soon be an appliance on lakegoing steamers. The managers of one of the companies are considering the fitting of all boats, passenger and freight, with sending and receiving stations of the Marconi pattern. With this in view, they will make tests of the system within a few weeks. If the tests are satisfactory the boats will probably be equipped with telegraph stations before the summer navigation season is well under way.
